

THE WYOMING RURAL DEVELOPMENT COUNCIL

The Wyoming Rural Development Council is a collaborative public/private partnership that brings together six partner groups: local/regional government, state government, federal government, tribal government, non-profit organizations and private sector individuals and organizations.

WRDC is governed by a Steering Committee representing the six partner groups. The Steering Committee as well as the Council membership have established the following goals for the WRDC:

- Assist rural communities in visioning and strategic planning
- Serve as a resource for assisting communities in finding and obtaining grants for rural projects
- Serve and be recognized as a neutral forum for identification and resolution of multi-jurisdictional issues
- Promote, through education, the understanding of the needs, values and contributions of rural communities

The Council seeks to assist rural Wyoming communities with their needs and development efforts by matching the technical and financial resources of federal, state, and local governments and the private sector with local development efforts.

Progress of the Platte County Task Force

PROCESS FOR THE DEVELOPMENT OF THIS REPORT

The Wyoming Rural Development Council (WRDC) has provided a resource team to assist the town of Wright, Wyoming in evaluating the community's assets and liabilities and in developing suggestions for improving the environment, social and economic future of Wright.

The town of Wright requested a community assessment from the Wyoming Rural Development Council. Susan Adams served as the community contact and took the lead in agenda development, logistics and publicity in town for the assessment. Resource team members were selected to visit, interview citizens, business and community leaders; and develop a plan of recommended action for the town. The team members were carefully selected based on their fields of expertise that Wright officials indicated would be needed to respond to the problem areas identified.

The Resource Team toured the town and interviewed approximately 140 people over a three-day period from May 8-10, 2001. The team interviewed representatives from the following segments of the Wright community: agriculture, education, youth, economic development, banking and finance, city/county government, school administration, industry, utilities, law enforcement, healthcare, emergency services, churches, social services, parents, civic services, retail, senior citizens, business, and Chamber of Commerce. Each participant was asked to respond to three questions designed to begin communication and discussion and to serve as a basis for developing the action plan. The three questions were:

- ❑ What do you think are the major problems and challenges in Wright?
- ❑ What do you think are the major strengths and assets in Wright?
- ❑ What projects would you like to see completed in two, five ten and twenty years in Wright?

Upon completion of the interviews, the team met to compare notes and share comments following the three days of intense study. The team then agreed that each team member would carefully analyze what was said, synthesize what they heard with their knowledge of programs and resources, prepare their notes and suggestions, and forward these items to be combined into WRDC's final report to Wright.

The oral report was presented to the people of Wright on May 10, 2001 and many of the citizens of Wright who participated in the interviews were in attendance.

Following the oral report, a formal written report was prepared and presented to the town of Wright. It was agreed that the town would print copies or summaries for each person interviewed.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The elements are all here for Wright to have a successful future. To become a growing, vibrant community takes only a few people willing to roll up their sleeves and go to work. Once this nucleus begins to exert effort, it will begin to show some successes. Then this nucleus needs to expand to include more and more of the community until the entire community is involved. But the work is not on big jobs; it is on small ones that can be achieved quickly. The big ones come later after Wright has seen the results of the smaller and sees that it can accomplish things.

Their area number of short term, accomplishable and recommendations that the review team has provided. The most important thing is to get the entire community involved in trying to find ways to accomplish its goals. A few celebrations at the successful conclusion of an activity which has involved a large number of citizens will lead to a feeling of accomplishment that will carry over into other activities. Look through the short-term suggestions, pick out one that you know what you can do, and get started!

Each of you individually must decide what it is that you want to do what kind of project you want to tackle. There are enough tasks for everyone. Each small step, every accomplishment, no matter how limited, is movement in the right direction toward achieving Wright's goals. It can be done! There is no problem facing Wright that cannot be solved by the people living in the community. It is your choice, your decision, you can do it.

On behalf of the Wright Resource Team, I want to thank the community and our sponsors for the warm hospitality shown to us during our stay. The meals and accommodations were outstanding. We heard over and over in the listening sessions that Wright was filled with warm, caring individuals and we certainly can attest to that! Thank you very much.

We hope you will find great value in this report and remember any team member is available for you to call to clarify information or provide more information and assistance.

The Wyoming Rural Development Council is here to help you in any way that we can.

Sincerely,

Mary E. Randolph, Executive Director, Wyoming Rural Development Council

INTRODUCTION

On behalf of the resource team I would like to thank the town of Wright for the warm hospitality that was expressed during our stay. The logistics were well attended to by Susan Adams and the food was exceptional – thanks to all. The town has many outstanding amenities not normally found in a town the size of Wright that make it attractive as a place to live. I personally can say the bike paths are outstanding and the recreation center is well equipped -- I enjoyed both. Wright is a town with a future.

This report is organized around the major themes identified by the resource team.

PUBLIC FACILITIES

Challenge: The need for new public facilities was mentioned numerous times during the sessions, most notably the desire for a library, running track, auditorium, indoor riding arena, motor cross track, and teen hangout. Due to the donation of land by the town the library should become a reality in the near future.

Solution/Contact: The running track and the motocross/BMX track both qualify for grant funding under the Land and Water Conservation Program. Funds should be available this fall with a call for applications shortly after the first of the year 2002. Matching funds are required; therefore, the town must plan now to insure funds are available. For more information contact:

Program guidelines and application information can be viewed by going to <http://commerce.state.wy.us/sphs/index1.htm> click on Land and Water Conservation Fund.

Solution/Contact: Facilities such as the auditorium and indoor riding arena are typically funded by the one-percent capital facilities tax. The tax requires a countywide vote and currently Campbell County is imposing a .25% tax. Procedures for passage of the tax are outlined in State Statute 39-15-203 (iii).

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Challenge: Recruitment of new businesses, particularly retail businesses, was mentioned time and time again at the listening sessions along with the desire to create a “Main Street.” In addition the need for an industrial park as well as a business/commercial park was mentioned.

Solution/Contact: The town has done an excellent job of attracting new companies that serve the existing coalmines within the region, so well in fact, that the town industrial park no longer has lots available for additional development. The town needs to identify additional land for development. Sources for industrial/commercial/business park development funding include the Wyoming Business Council, US Department of Commerce, and the USDA Rural Development

At the last legislative session an additional $4.9 million was allocated for use within the State Mineral Royalty Capital Construction Account (MRG). Even though the funds are not earmarked for economic development there is a tacit understanding these funds should be used for public infrastructure related to job creation. Communities have recently been successful in receiving MRG funds for job creation projects. For information contact:

The Community Development Block Grant Program (CDBG) managed by the Business Council is a source of funding for infrastructure when a business has committed to locate in town. Grants up to $150,000 are available for job creation projects. For information contact:

Start a Business Challenge program for the Wright area. This is a business competition program that can be tailored to existing business and/or start-up businesses. The program utilizes in-kind donations to assist businesses. The donations can range from in-kind advertising to in-kind accounting services. The following chart demonstrates just how far these in-kind contributions can go.

Business Challenge

Business X Winner
Local Accountant $1,000 In-Kind Services	Local Attorney $1,000 In-Kind Services	Local Newspaper $1,000 In-Kind Advertising	Local Radio Station $1,000 In-Kind Advertising
WBC $1,000 Cash	Chamber/EDC $1,000 Cash	Local Printer $1,000 In-Kind Copying	Community College $1,000 In-Kind Software Training
Local Bank $1,000 In-Kind Services	SBDC Counseling Services	City/County $1,000 Cash	DDA $1,000 In-Kind Rent

This program is in the process of being established by the WBC regional managers in a number of communities throughout the state. For more information on starting a business challenge program in Wright contact:

Dave Spencer
Wyoming Business Council
Northeast Regional Manager
PO Box 962
Gillette, WY 82716
307-685-0283

TRANSPORTATION

Challenge: Many folks at the listening sessions expressed the need to make State Highway 59 a fourlane at least from Wright to Gillette. There was also concern about the speed limit on 59 and that it should be reduced at the approaches to Wright. Also expressed was the desire to have some type of bus transportation to Gillette. For additional information contact:

John Lane
Wyoming Department of Transportation
5300 Bishop Blvd.
Cheyenne, WY 82002
307-777-4180

Solution/Contact: In June of this year Sleeter Dover, the Director of the Wyoming Department of Transportation, gave a presentation to the Joint Transportation Subcommittee testifying that expanding Highway 59 to a fourlane was a high priority for the department. Funding will need to be identified.

Bus transportation between Wright and Gillette for shopping, doctors' visits, as well a days outing, particularly for senior citizens, was mention by many attending the sessions. Programs are available that can be used to purchase a bus to be used for transportation from Wright to Gillette. The program is the Transportation Enterprise Grant and Loan Program managed through the Office of State Lands and Investments. The next application deadline is September 15th with project approval coming in mid November. The contact is:

Brad Miskimins
Office of State Lands and Investments
Herschler Building, 3rd Floor West
122 West 25th Street
Cheyenne, WY 82002
307-777-7331

LANDUSE/COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

Challenge: Management of growth in the face of significant planned development was of concern to many of the listening session attendees. If the power plant and coal bed methane developments materialize as proposed there will be significant impacts to the community. These types of developments, however, are not without precedent, as residents of Campbell County and the state well know.

Solution/Contacts: Lessons can be learned from the past and from other Wyoming communities that have experienced similar development. The town of Wheatland is such a community having been impacted by the construction of the Laramie River Station Power Plant. A community task force was created to examine and plan for the anticipated impacts. A narrative description of the task force concept is contained in the appendix. Both individuals were involved in impact mitigation planning.

Challenge: Although many trees have been planted in town and the joke was that some are now even taller than the houses, the need for more tree planning was expressed.

Solution/Contact: The State Forestry Division has a community tree-planting program. Information concerning this program may be obtained by contacting:

Mark Hughes
Forestry Division
1100 West 22nd Street
Cheyenne, WY 82002
307-777-7586

EDUCATION

Challenge: Entrepreneurial training for existing business owners as well as owners of start-up businesses is essential and can go a long ways toward strengthening the viability of new or expanding businesses. The need for such training was mentioned often during the sessions.

Solution/Contact: The Wyoming Small Business Development Center (SBDC) provides a wealth of assistance to business owners. The assistance includes business plan assistance, accounting, marketing, government procurement, and grant and loan application preparation to name a few. The SBDC office is located in Gillette, however, the director will travel to Wright to meet with clients.

The NxLevel entrepreneurial training is also offered through the SBDC's and will be taught on-site in Wright if there are enough students that sign-up for the class. It generally takes about 12 students to make a complete class. However, if there are fewer than 12 students the class will still be taught if a sponsor can be found to help financially support the class. Often time this is a bank or the local government, either city or county.

Challenge: Worker productivity and absenteeism can often times result from inadequate daycare or the lack of daycare, particularly during what is considered non-traditional time periods, such as in the evening and during second shift time periods. This issue was expressed as a concern many times at the listening sessions.

Solution/Contact: Campbell County recently received grant funding to conduct a childcare needs assessment. A countywide visioning session will take place September 14th and 15th. It is important that representatives from the Wright area attend that session so their views are heard. For additional information contact:

Melody Warren

HOUSING

Challenge: The assessment team heard numerous times about the shortage of affordable housing as well as a lack of housing at all price levels.

Solution/Contacts: Other communities have faced similar situations and have used a variety of methods to solve the problem. The Wyoming Community Development Authority (WCDA), which is the housing finance agency for the state, manages the HOME Investment Partnership Program, or HOME for short, which helps pay for development costs if the subsidy is past on to the homebuyer. The city of Powell prepared a housing demand study and in turned used it to persuade homebuilders that there was a market for affordable housing as well as other types of housing. This resulted in new housing construction. For additional information contact:

Within USDA Rural Development there is a program called “Self Help Housing.” This program allows homeowners to provide sweat equity for construction of homes under supervision by a construction supervisor sponsored by a housing authority or other non-profit organization.

Recently Housing Partners in Riverton applied for a Self Help Grant for technical assistance in the development of a Self Help Project. Four homes are being built and almost ready for occupancy, which were funded by Rural Development. For information contact:

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Challenge: Many citizens of Wright mentioned they would like to see more long-term industry and business established in their community. Citizens would especially like to see more service related businesses.

Resource: The Wyoming Business Council has excellent resources for business and industry recruiting. The Business Council is available to give business and industry recruiting presentations that are specialized for a community as well as provide support to a community that is seeking to diversify its economic base.

More information about the Wyoming Business Council can be obtained at their website at www.wyomingbusiness.org. For detailed information about business and industry recruiting, as well as requests for presentations, contact Den Costantino, Director of the Business and Industry Division of the Wyoming Business Council at dcosta@state.wy.us or (307) 777-2842.

Resource: Powder River Energy Corporation has a program aimed at community economic development. PRECorp's Progressive Community Grant Program is designed to assist communities in need of financial support in order to complete a community project or goal that relates to community and economic development. Maximum grant amount awarded to a community annually is $2000. For more information on the Community Grant Program and an application form, contact Mike Blenkush, Manager of External Affairs, Powder River Energy Corporation, mikeb@precorp.org, or (307) 682-0733.

Resource: The Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) has a variety of information regarding federal assistance and benefits available to the American public. The catalog is a compilation of financial and non-financial resources available through the many departments of the federal government. The catalog also has information on applying for federal assistance and developing and writing grant proposals.

The catalog can be searched online at www.cfda.gov, this is where the many different types of assistance can be reviewed, what type of assistance best suits community needs, information on application processes and information on writing actual grant proposals can be downloaded.

Another excellent resource for searching for available federal funds, applying for grants, and managing the grant process, is the U.S. House of Representatives Federal Funds Express website at www.house.gov/ffr/Grants_Other.htm. This site not only contains information on federal assistance programs, but also information and links to many private and charitable organizations that also offer grants.

POLITICAL REPRESENTATION

Challenge: Citizens of the Wright Community are concerned that they are under represented on County Boards and Councils. This can impact funding for Wright's schools and county public facilities.

Resource: Get community residents elected to the County Boards. One way to help achieve this is to form a local Political Action Committee (PAC). A PAC is a group of people with common goals who collect money to contribute to candidates running for public office. Generally, PACs are non-partisan alliances that do not favor one political party over another; instead, they support the political candidates who best represent the interests and views of its members.

A PAC, like other committees, must have a Chairperson, a Treasurer, and a board that will be responsible for prioritizing issues and developing a message that will be relayed to candidates in addition to financial support. A PAC is not limited to simply handing out checks, a PAC can also hold fund raising activities and actively campaign for candidates.

The PAC I have worked with, WREAPAC, collects money from annual memberships of individuals. Different levels of membership with WREAPAC are Regular $25, Century $100, and President's Club $500, although individuals can contribute as much as they wish. When a person joins the PAC, they receive a membership card, a lapel pin and a newsletter; this gives them something tangible to let them know that they are an important part of the PAC.

While membership contributions are the financial backbone of the PAC, other fundraising activities like auctions where items are donated and then auctioned off can help raise additional funds for the PAC. State and federal law limit PAC fund raising activities, so regulations should be reviewed before proceeding with a fundraiser.

To form a PAC, the required forms must be submitted to the Wyoming Secretary of State. These forms, as well as state laws governing PACs can be found at the Secretary of State's Website at <http://soswy.state.wy.us/election/election.htm>. Depending on which candidates the PAC chooses to support, and depending on how much money the PAC raises, it may also be required to file with the Federal Election Commission (FEC). FEC forms and federal election laws can be found on the FEC's website at www.fec.gov.

Questions regarding state PAC issues can be addressed to the Secretary of State's office at (307) 777-5333. I may also be able to aid you in questions and concerns with state PAC issues. Questions regarding federal PAC issues can be addressed to the FEC at (800) 424-9530 or you may also call Mike Whalen at the Action Committee for Rural Electrification at (703) 907-5826 (when calling Mr. Whalen, please tell him that I suggested you call).

Resource: An excellent resource for candidates thinking about running for public office is the Wyoming Rural Electric Association's Candidate Training School. This free school is open to everyone interested in running for office and will be held sometime in late October or early November of this year in Casper. The school will focus on effective campaigning, media relations, and campaign finance. I will send promotional materials to the Town of Wright for the Candidate Training School once the agenda has been set.

EDUCATION

Challenge: Many of the community's youths and other citizens were concerned about a lack of after school activities for teenagers, leading many teens to pursue non-productive activities.

Resource: The creation of a local youth council can create connections between the youth of the area and local officials. A youth council allows teens to feel that they have a say in the decision-making that affects them, and take pride in their community.

Local schools, the City Council and the Wyoming Medical Center, sponsor the Youth Council of Casper. The Youth Council regularly meets with the City Council and the school officials to discuss their concerns, ideas and current/proposed projects.

Besides taking part in meetings with the Town Council, the youth council also co-sponsors community activities, projects and awareness programs. The Youth Council of Casper played a major role in the creation of a public skate park, a successful suicide prevention program, and many community service activities.

More information about nationwide Youth Empowerment programs can be obtained at the Youth Empowerment website at www.youthempowerment.com. More information on the Casper Youth Council can be obtained by contacting Barb Rea, Coordinator, Casper Youth Council, brea@wmcnet.org, or (307) 577-2134.

FACILITIES

Concerns were mentioned repeatedly about the lack of funds available for construction of community or public facilities. Revenue could be generated by the passage of one-percent sales tax for a number of projects. These funds could be utilized to match funds in all most all state and federal grant programs available to small communities such as Wright.

Library, Running Track, Auditorium, Indoor Arena, Motocross/BMX Track and Teen Hangout, Recreation Center, Community - Senior Center.

The subject of community and public facilities such as a library, running track, auditorium, indoor arena, motocross/BMX track, senior/community center and a teen hangout was repeated throughout the assessment. The passage of a one-percent sales tax could fund of these projects. This tax should be pursued so that adequate funding is available to partner with other state and federal agencies to complete necessary community facilitates and programs.

These projects could be viewed in combination or singularly. The community needs to evaluate the uses for each and decide on a facility that would be big enough to serve the purpose but not so big that full utilization would be difficult.

The town of Wright may also want to spearhead the development of a non-profit or a for-profit organization to manage the needed programs and facilities.

Cody and Cheyenne have constructed similar facilities to those mentioned. These facilities are for-profit ventures. Contacts for these projects are:

1. Cheyenne – Mike Rosenthal. Phone 307-634-7723
2. Cody – Victor or Karen Riley. Phone 307-527-5211

There are several ways to fund these types of projects. In addition to fund raising efforts the community might consider the following:

1. Form a Joint Powers Board between the city of Wright and the county of Campbell.
2. Form a Non Profit Organization.
3. The city of Wright could apply for loans and grants.

Funding sources might include:

1. Rural Development – Community Facility Loan – this would be for a direct loan or grant. Contact point is Lola Lucero, Rural Development Manager, 1949 Sugarland Drive, Suite 118, Sheridan, WY 82801. Phone number is 307-672-6431. Her email address is lola.lucero@wy.usda.gov.
2. Local banks serving this community have funds available for projects and the loan can be guaranteed by Rural Development. Contact a local bank or contact Rural Development at the address above.
3. Any of the Bond Councils in the state can help set up bond elections and give advice as to the best bonding route to pursue. Three bonding companies are:
 - a. Borthwick Law Firm, 1312 Capitol Ave., Suite 506, P.O. Box 1124, Cheyenne, WY 82001, phone 307-635-2433.
 - b. Herschler, Freudenthal, Salzburg & Bonds, 314 E. 21st Street, P.O. Box 387, Cheyenne, WY 82003-0387, phone 307-634-2240.
 - c. Wiederspahn, Lummis & Liepas, PC, 2020 Carey Ave., Suite 700, Cheyenne, WY 82001, phone 307-638-6417.
4. State Loan and Investment Board, Brad Miskimins. Phone 307-777-6646.
5. Private foundations can be found through the Internet at the Foundation Center. Their web site is www.fdncenter.org.

HOUSING ISSUES – SENIOR LOW COST, ASSISTED LIVING

The assessment team heard several comments regarding the need for affordable housing as well as subsidized housing. We also heard that the need for assisted living facilities was present. It appears that the current facilities are adequate to handle seniors who are mobile and those that need nursing care. However the need was for a facility that would fill the gap between these two. There are several issues with this topic. First, to obtain senior housing or low income subsidized multi-family facilities a need must be demonstrated in the community. Generally, this is accomplished by a developer as part of the loan package. There are several funding sources for this type of project.

Funding sources might include:

1. USDA - Rural Development's Multi-Family Section 515 loan program. This program is administered by the use of a Notification of Fund Availability (NOFA) which is published in the Federal Register. Generally these funds are made available around the first of the year. Rural Development also has a guaranteed loan program under Section 538. This program is also handled under the NOFA system. These loans are designed for low and very low-income tenants. Specific details as well as developers who have worked in this program can be obtained from Lola Lucero, Rural Development Manager, 1949 Sugarland Drive, Suite 118, Sheridan, WY 82801. Phone number is 307-672-6431. Her email address is lola.lucero@wy.usda.gov

2. Wyoming Community Development Authority (WCDA) is the state housing authority. They have control over Low Income Tax Credits and the HOME Investment Partnership Program, HOME for short. These funds can be used for development costs if a subsidy is passed to the tenants. WCDA also has a multi-family bond authority but this generally only works with projects of 150 or more units. The contact person at WCDA is Cheryl Gillum, Housing Programs Director. Her address is 155 North Beech, Casper, WY 82601. Her phone number is 307-265-0603
3. Funding sources for an assisted living facility might be obtained through USDA – Rural Development’s Community Facility program. This program has funds for direct loans and guaranteed loans. The same office listed in number 1 above handles these programs.
4. A local developer generally initiates single family housing projects. If no developer is available the community could initiate a development by purchasing and installing the needed infrastructure. Funding is available on a non-profit basis from Rural Development under its Section 523 program. This program loan funds at a very low interest rate for the development of building lots. These lots are then sold to prospective low-income homeowners in conjunction with the building of a home. These homes can be financed with Rural Development funds under the Section 502 program. The local office in Worland handles these programs. Contact person is the same as in 1 above. Another source of funding is through the WCDA’s HOME program, which has funds available to finance single family homes for low-income purchasers. This program involves an interested builder who will construct homes using HOME funds then sell them to authorized buyers. Rural Development can participate with WCDA in financing these homes. The contact for WCDA is Cheryl Gillum, Housing Programs Director, 155 North Beech, Casper, WY 82601. Her phone number is 307-265-0603.

BUSINESS PARK

Another concern expressed in the listening sessions was for the development of a business park. The issue of land availability was discussed. The term “land locked” was used several times. The issue of finding suitable land is paramount to the development of a business park that will be used by new or expanding businesses. Land in the flood plain should not be considered. The cost of flood insurance to new businesses would no doubt discourage development. With proper planning the community should be able to find suitable land to buy. The funding possibilities include:

1. USDA – Rural Development using their Community Facility Loan and Grant program. This program has long-term low interest loans for communities to obtain. Some grant funds may also be available. The contact person is the same as above.

2. Another source might be the Industrial Road Program, Office of Local Government Coordination, P.O. Box 1708, Cheyenne, WY 82003-1708. Phone 307-777-4384.
3. Funds are available from the Economic Development Fund from the Federal Home Loan Bank of Seattle. EDF funds can be used to support community or economic development activities. The Federal Home Loan Bank offers a number of community lending programs to financial institutional customers (local banks). The local banks pass the money to nonprofits or governmental bodies. For more information contact the Seattle Home Loan Bank at 1501 Fourth Avenue, Suite 1900, Seattle, WA 98101-1693. Their phone number is 1-800-973-6223. Their web site is www.fhlbsea.com.
4. Funds may also be available through the Department of Commerce under their Economic Development Administration. Their address is 1244 Speer Boulevard, Room 670, Denver, CO 80204. Their web site is www.doc.gov. This web site lists all of the available programs.
5. Another source might be from the Federal Mineral Royalty Capital Construction Account, Brad Miskimins, Grant and Loan Manager, Herschler Bldg. 3 W, 122 W 25th Street, Cheyenne, WY 82002, phone 307-777-7309.

YOUTH

Out Migration

This problem was discussed as several sessions. Generally this related to the loss of youth that left the community to find good paying jobs after completion of college. This causes a “brain drain” on the local community. This is a problem with most communities in Wyoming. The only real solution is the creation of jobs in the community that are technical in nature. Most comments indicated a lack of interest in industrial jobs, so the logical solution would be high-tech jobs. These type companies have been moving into smaller communities in the State. SENTO opened a business center in Evanston and is contemplating expanding into Green River in the next year or so. This is a Utah company that has employed several hundred workers in Evanston and plans on 200 more in Green River. They deal in computer technologies and are a clean business to bring into a community. You can visit their web site at www.sento.com. In Casper, Boise Cascade Office Products order center opened about 2 years ago. That business has grown and now employs over a hundred employees. Their web site is www.bcpb.com. Businesses like these are becoming more common in rural America. They can conduct business from basically anywhere that rapid Internet access is available.

The following contacts are available for financial assistance to train and develop the workforce of the community:

1. Carl D. Perkins, Vocational and Technical Education Act of 1998. Contact Heather Wagoner, Hathaway Bldg., 2nd Floor, 2300 Capital Avenue, Cheyenne, WY 82002. Phone

- 307-777-5329. This program is available to develop academic, vocational and technical skills in vocational students.
2. Workforce Development Training Fund. Contact Jan Wilson, P.O. Box 2760, Casper, WY 82602-2760. Phone 307-235-3294. The purpose of this fund is to enhance employment opportunities and help meet training needs of existing and new industries.
 3. Adult Educational and Literacy. Contact the Department of Education, Karen Milmont, Hathaway bldg., 2nd Floor, 2300 Capital Avenue, Cheyenne, WY 82002. Phone 307-777-3545. The purpose is to provide education for undereducated adults (those who have not graduated from high school or received a GED).

DAY CARE FACILITY

The need for a day care center was discussed at several listening sessions. A not-for-profit group that is willing to spear head could develop this type of facility. One such group is in Worland called NOWCAP. They have the staff and desire to help communities get a project off the ground. One such project that has been recently completed is the Children's Discovery Center in Pinedale. The director of this facility is Carol Chidsey. Her address is P.O. Box 100, Pinedale, WY 82941. Her phone number is 307-367-6272. Wright officials could contact this organization for assistance in how to develop this facility.

A funding source for this type of project is through the Community Facility loan program of Rural Development. Contact Lola Lucero, Rural Development Manager, 1949 Sugarland Drive, Suite 118, Sheridan, WY 82801. Phone number is 307-672-6431. Her email address is lola.lucero@wy.usda.gov

Recommendations for the Major Themes

PUBLIC FACILITIES

- Library: Continue to work with County Officials to insure that Wright gets the Library they have envisioned.
- Running Track / Auditorium / Indoor Riding Arena: City Council appoint a citizen committee to identify the costs of building a Running Track, Auditorium, and an Indoor Riding Arena.
- Local Funding Sources: After identifying costs, contact and lobby County Commissioners, Campbell County School District, Local Businesses, Industry, and Citizens of Wright for the necessary funds.

Other Funding Sources: The Kresge Foundation. While many private foundations do not fund capital projects, 80% of Kresge's foundation dollars support capital projects. Be sure to check out the "Bricks and Mortar Program."

CONCLUSION

I found the town of Wright to be a very clean, vibrant, and friendly place, that has already done a good job of community development. However, I feel very strongly that you must now, fine tune what you have now, and prepare for your anticipated new growth. I sincerely hope this assessment process works for you. I look forward to working with you in the future. "Thanks again for your wonderful hospitality".

INTRODUCTION

I did not attend the Wright Community Assessment as a Team Member, however, I have read the community responses at the listening sessions, reviewed the list of major themes and I have had discussions with Team Leader, Steve Achter regarding the assessment. The Team has provided you with some excellent recommendations based on what they heard in your community. I would like to add a few more recommendations and resources that may be of help to you and your community.

Recommendation: I would first re-iterate Steve Achter’s comments in his introduction. The next phase of this assessment will be to host another town meeting to involve all citizens in prioritizing the recommendations of this report. It will be impossible for you to take on each and every recommendation, but if you begin with a few and show success, the momentum will begin to continue Wright as a growing and vital community. Steve Achter and Jennifer Goodman of the Wyoming Community Network will facilitate the follow-up town meeting. I encourage you to take advantage of this follow-up town meeting.

Recommendation: In order for any community to be successful in moving forward, have a strategic plan is imperative for success. A strategic plan lays out the blueprint for change within a community. It takes a community from a pie-in-the-sky vision to specific actions. The Wyoming Association of Municipalities presents a strategic planning session at their state meetings and conventions. If a community official is attending the meeting, I would suggest they sign up for the strategic planning session. Or, you may contact the Wyoming Rural Development Council and we would be happy to present this session to your community.

EDUCATION

Recommendation (Leadership Training): There are many successful leadership-training programs in the state that can assist Wright in developing leadership in the community. One good resource is again the Wyoming Association of Municipalities (WAM). WAM supports Leadership Training Services – an affordable leadership program for communities. This organization also offers a leadership accreditation program, called Continued Education Program. You can reach levels of leadership and receives credit for courses you attend.

Recommendation (Public Disaster Education): Campbell County has recently begun a Project Impact Program through Emergency Management Services. Project Impact is a program designed by Federal Emergency Management to create more disaster-resistant communities through local community stakeholder partnerships. Campbell County has received a grant to implement this program.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Recommendation (new business start-up): Many comments were made regarding new business needed in the community. New business loans are available for persons interested in starting a new business. The following resources are available:

1. Rural Business Enterprise Grant may be used to facilitate the development of small and emerging private business enterprises and can be used for technical assistance such as market research, product and/or service improvement, or feasibility studies.
