With these in mind it is my desire that aided by your advice and by your cooperation, this 31st session will long be remembered as a pleasant and successful one. We will be faced with many problems during the next forty days, some new, some old; all must be carefully considered with fairness, honesty and impartiality.

Again as in some of the past sessions, we find our nation in the midst of a new crisis. We must take care that what we do here does not adversely affect the welfare of our state or our nation, but to the contrary, will advance the welfare of both.

We have been selected to represent the interest of the State of Wyoming. Let us not be guided by sectionalism, nor by party prejudice in making decisions, but rather by what will do the most good for all concerned.

To the new members of the Senate I extend welcome and best wishes. I am sure that you will find, as I have, that the Senate is composed of very fine men. I know you will enjoy working with them. Thank you."

President Rymill presented His Excellency, the Governor, to the members of the Joint Session, and the Governor delivered the following message to the assembly:

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

To

THE THIRTY-FIRST STATE LEGISLATURE

Mr. President of the Senate, Mr. Speaker of the House,
Members of the 31st Wyoming State Legislature:

I bid you welcome to these Halls. You are convened at a fateful hour when the black clouds of war are again gathering over the whole world. The situation is both difficult and dangerous, as well as distressing and critical. Free men in every land are bewildered. Military victory was achieved only a few short years ago. Our boys and their comrades in arms paid dearly to bring victory to our cause. We demanded neither territory nor reparations. We asked only for peace for the world. One of our associates in that war whom we befriended with billions and billions of our treasure when their backs were to the wall and their homeland was invaded, undertook immediately after the fighting ended a relentless campaign of terror against friend and foe alike. If we cut through the fog and mist of the uncertainties of today, these facts stand crystal clear. They subjugated Poland and seized the government in Czechoslovakia. They maintained and are maintaining a mighty army in Eastern Europe. They organized and trained an army of East Germans. By threats and violence they sought to drive this country, as well as France and Britain, out of Berlin. They armed the Communists of North Korea and directed the attack on helpless South Korea. They armed the hordes of Chinese Communists and sent them on their bloody way against our boys in Korea. They expect Communists in every nation to act as the Kremlin's agent to undermine free institutions in case of war. In the face of that record, they have had the bold effrontery to stand up in the Councils of the United Nations and boldly charge us with being war mongers and aggressors. I am prepared to say that the Soviet government has forfeited the right to associate with peaceful nations, and it is high time that Russia and its satellites be given a dishonorable discharge from the United Nations. That would put them on notice that they had been tried before the Court of Mankind and found guilty. Such action would enable all the other nations of the world to work together in unison for the cause of peace.

I have great confidence in our Legislative bodies. Never before has our State needed courageous, fearless and straight thinking legislators as it does today. My long personal acquaintance with you convinces me that each of you measures up to that standard.

Civilian Defense

In the light of world conditions, I need not remind you of the necessity and importance of giving careful study to the needs for adequate Civilian Defense. We are no longer secure because of our geographical location. No one can be certain where the enemy might strike. We have many important industrial production plants in Wyoming such as refineries, airports, coal, iron ore, mining, power plants and transcontinental railroads.

Considerable progress has been made in the field of planning and initial organization. I am happy to report to you that a Civil Defense organization has been established in our State, including a fairly adequate air raid warning communication system. A radiological defense training program has been initiated at our University and all counties have designated Civilian Defense committees which are developing local plans and organizations.

Many of our citizens may be required to accept employment in war industries located in critical areas. We should train them in the basic requirements for individual and group protective measures. The veterans' organizations should be called upon to cooperate in the building of an enlarged program.

A vastly increased program seems most necessary and desirable. These important activities require authorization. I urge your early attention and action on this legislation.

I am aware of the fact that there is no request in the Budget for Civilian Defense but I feel certain that you will want to provide sufficient funds within proper bounds.

Budget

The federal taxes, especially income taxes, our people are presently required to pay are exceedingly burdensome. These taxes will undoubtedly be increased in the months ahead. The tax collector will take from many people funds that will be needed to purchase necessities of life. The end result will be a gradual lowering of our standard of living, and the people won't like it. Our greatest contribution to the welfare of our citizens in these troubled times will be to lighten the tax burden and eliminate every unnecessary expenditure. Let us cut every appropriation wherever possible and scrutinize every expenditure and exact from every Department and agency of government a strict accounting for every dollar of tax money. Now is the time for action. It is your solemn and patriotic duty to insist upon the strictest economy from the top to the bottom. I beseech you to let nothing deter you from that objective. Less than three weeks ago I returned home and immediately started hearings on the Budget. The time available was entirely too short to make an exhaustive study and, naturally, I was quite unfamiliar with the situation. I want to publicly express my deep gratitude to all of the other State officials and, particularly, to Hon. Charles Smith, former Senator from Hot Springs County, for their splendid assistance.

Assuming that revenues will continue substantially as at present, it is estimated that receipts for the next biennium will be about as follows:

Sales and Use Tax.....	$14,000,000.00
State ad Valorem (based on 1½ mill levy).....	1,700,000.00
Liquor Commission	2,200,000.00
Insurance and Inheritance Tax.....	1,220,000.00
Other departments.....	489,000.00
Total.....	$19,609,000.00
Unencumbered balance in General Fund (estimated as of March 31, 1951).....	3,626,603.00
Estimated Total Revenue from all sources	$23,235,603.00

In the light of experience, it seems to me that during these times our total appropriations should not in any event exceed $21,735,603.00.

Budget requests for capital out-lay totalled $4,563,081.04. The University of Wyoming is badly in need of a library building. I disapproved a Budget request for that purpose in the sum of $1,400,000.00 but, at the same time, I recognize the need for such a building and I trust that funds can be provided for such purpose at some future date. Many other capital out-lay requests were denied for institutions over the State for the same reason and, likewise, we hope that when conditions are changed, a way can be found to comply with these requests. While our financial condition has compelled this decision, yet it is extremely doubtful if construction would be possible even if the funds were available.

The Budget requests for the next biennium for appropriations from the General Fund for administration purposes amounted to $18,061,763.30. We went through these requests item by item and I have recommended reductions amounting to $1,244,732.26. We made a conscientious effort to make reductions wherever possible. I had hoped to recommend reductions of even a larger amount. I found that in some of our institutions the cost of the meals to the inmates averaged but 14c and, in good conscience, I could not and would not cut that item. The total Budget requests amounted to $22,624,844.34, and the reductions that I have recommended total $5,297,951.25, leaving a balance of approved Budget items amounting to $17,326,893.09.

In addition to the Budget requests, the Legislature will no doubt consider proposals for reimbursements to political subdivisions for taxes lost by reason of the Veterans' Tax exemption amounting to approximately $2,000,000.00, and by reason of Homestead Tax exemption amounting to about $1,500,000.00. When these two items are added to the Budget requests approved by me, the total will then amount to $20,826,893.09. I have already recommended that you make a suitable appropriation for Civilian Defense. I am advised that a request will be submitted to you for a direct appropriation to the Wyoming Teacher Retirement Fund. Some members of the Legislature have stated it was their understanding that further appropriations for General Aid for Education would not be necessary shortly after the State-wide six mill school levy became effective. In fact, such an interpretation might be inferred from the letter of Governors Crane and Hunt transmitting the Budget two years ago. On the other hand, this is disputed by some members of the Legislature and other interested citizens. Accordingly, I am advised that our school people will present a request for appropriations for General Aid and also for the School Equalization Fund. The needs of our schools are self evident and it would appear that provision for funds for Equalization is more urgent in order to distribute funds to those districts that can not maintain a minimum school program under existing maximum levies. The Legislature undoubtedly will consider these requests in the light of the facts above outlined and in consideration of the limits of available funds. You will be called upon to make additional appropriations but I want to urge you with all the power at my command to search through these Budget requests and save every possible dollar consistent with good government, and I appeal to you to limit the total appropriations to $21,735,603.00, or less, if at all possible, thereby leaving an estimated unobligated surplus of approximately $1,500,000.00 as a cushion for use in case of unforeseen emergencies.

We are justly proud of our State University. We want to provide within the means of our people opportunities for our youth comparable to those afforded by other states. We should maintain a University worthy of Wyoming. Our University finds its income materially diminished because of declining enrollment and it is anticipated that this will become increasingly worse as more of our young men are called into service. At the same time, costs of operation have increased and it is difficult to cut expenditures to any marked degree. It may well be that during the present year a military training program will be instituted that will materially increase revenues, but because of the fact that there is no assurance of same, I have approved a substantial increase in the Budget request for the University. I recommend, however, that you provide for authority for the Governor and the President of the University to withhold an amount from the funds appropriated as will equal the net amount accruing to the University from any training program that may be set up after paying the additional expense involved.

Sales Tax on Automobiles

The present Sales Tax Act places the responsibility of collection upon the vendor of tangible personal property when the transfer of title or possession occurs within the borders of this State. The Use Tax Act requires the payment of tax if tangible personal property is purchased outside the State for use in Wyoming by its residents. It is the opinion of the State Board of Equalization and the Wyoming Automobile Dealers that the State of Wyoming lost between $750,000.00 and $1,000,000.00 in revenue during the current biennium on the sale of automobiles because of loopholes in the present Sales and Use Tax Acts. I recommend that you provide by law for the collection of these taxes by the County Treasurers at the time of registration of motor vehicles and applied to all purchases of motor vehicles. The result will be a more efficient collection of a tax already levied and a more equitable distribution of the tax burden which will be collected from consumers as originally intended by the Sales and Use Tax Acts. In my judgment, one of your most important duties during this session is to plug this loophole.

Increased County Motor Vehicle Fees

The county fee depreciates every year for five years, after which it remains constant. The present county fee as required by law is based upon 60% of the factory cost on a new vehicle for the first year, 50% the second year, 40% the third year, 20% the fourth year, and 10% the fifth year and thereafter. The fee is arrived by taking 3% of the particular percentage. It appears that this formula is inequitable and I recommend that it be revised on an equitable basis.

Misuse of State Cars

The State of Wyoming owns approximately 415 automobiles. I am advised that the cost of operating and maintaining these cars costs the State more than a quarter million dollars a year. This figure does not include the original cost. These cars belong to the people of Wyoming and represent a substantial investment. In any event, it costs a tremendous sum of money to keep these cars in operation each year, all of which is covered in the Budget now before you. These cars are provided for official use only, and by no means should they be used except in the transaction of State business. Violations in the past by some State employees has unfavorably reflected on all State employees. I propose that all of these cars be plainly marked, "PROPERTY OF THE STATE OF WYOMING, OFFICIAL BUSINESS ONLY," and I call upon the heads of all departments to see to it that these cars are used solely and exclusively on State business. I recommend to the Legislature that it consider the advisability of setting up a car pool in order to provide necessary transportation for those transacting State business. It might well be a central storage with adequate authority to compel check-ins and check-outs by State employees for unofficial business. At any rate, the use of State cars on Sundays and holidays and after working hours must be stopped—and now.

State-County Roads

Wyoming has maintained a consistent program of highway improvement since the 1917 session of the Legislature created the State Highway Department. During that time we have expended $158,000,000.00 on our highway system. That program has been largely confined to the designated State Highway system now extending over 4,618 miles. I propose that consideration be directed toward an accelerated program of State-county roads. This is particularly necessary at this time in order to enable our State to accomplish its full share in the national defense program. We can best contribute to the war effort through production from our farms, our ranches and our mines. To accomplish this purpose, transportation must be available at a minimum cost. The ordinary dirt road and undrained or ungraded and mud surface can not efficiently carry the products of the farm, ranch or our mines.

I propose that you set up a new division within the State Highway Department for State-county roads. It appears that 262 miles of State-county roads have been improved at a cost of $700,000.00 during the past biennium. This is a fine accomplishment and indicative of the wisdom of the sponsors of that legislation. Costs are now high and may go even much higher so that the financing of a greatly expanded program will require far more money than is presently available. Careful budgeting of the funds now available to the Highway Commission with a view to allocating a larger share of all such funds accruing from present statutory provisions to the State-county program might well provide an appreciable amount of available funds. In any event, funds should be provided for this program. We should proceed with all possible speed in the planning, engineering and contracting of the State-county roads in order to serve our productive areas and permit transportation of our products at minimum cost. The State-wide surveys supervised by the Planning Division of the Highway Department are reaching completion in 21 counties at an opportune time to provide an immediately available basis for this program. Revision of the matching formula for the counties should be carefully considered.

Non-Highway Gasoline Tax

The license tax of four cents per gallon on gasoline used by tractors and any other farm machinery which is not operated on the State highways creates certain inequities. The payment of this tax by the farmers and ranchers of Wyoming for their tractors and farm machinery in some cases is unfair and discriminatory. On the other hand, many difficulties will be encountered in the administration of any statute revising existing law. It may well be that the enactment of an enlarged State-county road program with smaller contributions from the various counties will obviate the necessity for such legislation.

Qualifications of Electors

The Constitution of our State provides that, "Every citizen of the United States of the age of 21 years and upwards, who has resided in the State one year, shall be entitled to vote." Many of our young men between the ages of 18 and 21 are required to render military service and indeed many of them have lost their lives on the field of battle before they attained the age of 21. Many of our young women are also serving their country in military service. In the light of that situation, it seems to me that if they are old enough to fight and die for our country, by the same token they should be accorded the privilege of voting. I recommend to you that consideration be given to a proposal to amend the Constitution accordingly.

State Farm Loans

The original provisions of the Farm Loan laws do not meet the credit needs of a present-day rancher and farmer. The present provisions of the law which are limited to 90% of the average assessed valuation of the land for the three preceding years are not practical under present-day loaning policy and, therefore, might be relaxed and based on some higher figure, probably fifty per cent. The maximum amount that might be loaned might also be increased.

I recommend that you consider the advisability of revising these provisions of law at this time.

Wyoming Natural Resources

Wyoming is blessed with an abundance of rich natural resources. We must mobilize all of these resources and promote an orderly development in a patriotic endeavor to help in every way possible to aid the defense effort. Our great state can make a splendid contribution by encouraging the rapid development of our great natural resources under wise and good conservation practices.

In 1949, Wyoming was eighth among the states in the volume of oil produced. At the present time, our production of oil is approximately 180,000 barrels a day, and Wyoming now ranks sixth among the states in oil production. Oil and gas leases have been executed on approximately 40% of the total area of Wyoming and only two states in the Union have a greater percentage of their acreage under lease. This points up to the fact that in view of the evident needs of oil for the defense of our country, we can look forward to an expanded program of oil development in our State. Before long, we will undoubtedly become one of the most important oil producing states in the Union.

The University of Wyoming has recently reported that "Wyoming's black oils will be extremely valuable to the national defense effort, if research now going on at the University of Wyoming proves successful.

"At the present time the State's tremendous black oil reserves are of limited value, since some contain a high percentage of sulphur while others have excessive amounts of asphalt.

"If economical processes for the removal of the excessive sulphur and asphalt can be developed, a much higher percentage of gasoline and fuel oils could be refined from some of these 'black' crude oils."

The development of all of our natural resources will mean the enrichment of our State and the betterment of our people, and it is our patriotic duty to lend assistance as a State and as individuals in the orderly development of all of our resources during this emergency.

Oil and Gas Conservation Law

The conservation of Wyoming's natural resources, which includes oil and gas, is something that no honest man can oppose. We owe it to ourselves and to our children and to the nation as well, to support conservation. This is true, notwithstanding the fact that most of Wyoming's oil and gas is presently produced under conservation and good engineering practices administered on federal lands by the United States Geological Survey and on State lands by the Mineral Supervisor of the State of Wyoming. At the same time, I believe that greater progress can be made in this field by proper legislation supplementing, extending and preserving our present practices.

I recommend to the Legislature that every type of waste of natural resources be prevented and prohibited. That the production of oil and gas be governed by proper engineering and scientific practices and in accordance with every principle of true conservation to the end that the business of extracting our natural resources from the soil will be conducted under our system of free enterprise in an orderly and efficient manner. It seems to me that this legislation is of increasing importance because of the tremendous increase in the production of oil and gas in our State.

I strongly urge you to enact an oil and gas conservation bill which would prohibit and prevent any waste of these great natural resources and would enable the Board of Land Commissioners acting as an Oil and Gas Conservation Board to properly administer and enforce conservation. Such a law can not be carried out without adequate facilities for enforcement and I believe that the measure should provide funds for administration on a fee basis in order to cover into the Treasury such amount as may be necessary to provide any additional administrative expenditures that will be required to get the job done in a good and efficient manner.

Old Age and Survivors' Insurance

The Congress recently enacted legislation which makes it possible to include under the Social Security Act all public employees not now covered by retirement plans of the State or its local subdivisions. In order for Wyoming to take advantage of this legislation, it will be necessary for the Legislature to pass an enabling act which will authorize agreements between the State and the Social Security Administration. The federal law provides that a single State agency shall administer and be responsible for the plan. It will be necessary for the Legislature to establish a proper administrative structure within the State government to operate the plan. I favored that legislation in the Congress and, therefore, I recommend that the Legislature enact these two measures so that all employees of the State and its political subdivisions not presently covered by a retirement system may be covered by this type of insurance.

Welfare

The Congress also provided for additions and changes in the public assistance programs. It provides for a new program known as Aid to the Permanently and Totally Disabled for which federal funds are now available for matching purposes. Although this program is in operation in Wyoming on a temporary basis, it is necessary that the Public Welfare Law be amended to conform to certain federal requirements if federal matching is to be continued on a permanent basis. It may be noted that many people permanently and totally disabled by under the age of sixty-five years have heretofore secured assistance solely from State and county funds. If this legislation is enacted the federal government will assume part of that cost.

I urge the passage of legislation along the lines proposed by our State Welfare Department. In passing, let me also strongly urge our county welfare departments to promptly notify our county law enforcement officials as well as our District Judges of all those cases coming to their attention where a parent or parents have deserted their minor children.

Wyoming Youth Council

The Wyoming Youth Council is charged with the duty of studying our laws pertaining to children and recommending needed revisions. The Council will submit five proposed bills for your consideration:

1—A recreation enabling law. 2—The Uniform Support of Dependents Act. 3—A bill authorizing civil proceedings to enforce defaulting parents to support their minor children. 4—A bill providing for specialized procedures for and commitments of sexual deviates. 5—A juvenile court bill, providing for improved court and detention procedures under presently existing facilities in the handling of juvenile dependents and delinquents.

These legislative drafts have been prepared as a result of Council surveys and by reason of the favorable vote of the electorate on the juvenile court constitutional amendments. The bills have been given serious consideration by the Legislative Interim Committee, the various State Departments, State Medical Association, State Bar Association, State Federation of Women's Clubs, State Parent Teachers' Congress and the Wyoming Department of the American Legion. I remind you that the conservation of our children is of paramount importance and I ask that you give sincere consideration to each of these proposed bills within the four corners of our financial ability.

Workmen's Compensation

The State Treasurer holds as Trustee funds paid under the Workmen's Compensation Department and Industrial Accident currently amounting to $4,501,875.75. As has been customary for some years, a recent joint meeting of employer, employee and department representatives, resulted in agreement with respect to amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Law that will provide increased awards to injured workers, their widows and dependents, and permit some changes affecting administration, all of which will be submitted for your consideration as in the form of a proposed bill.

There has been some mention of an actuarial audit of the Workmen's Compensation Fund for the purpose of determining its soundness, the equity of the rate structure, the relation of income to obligations or liabilities, and it appears likely that in the not far distant future such audit or survey will be necessary.

I commend these matters for your favorable consideration.

Repeal of the Old Age Assistance Lien Law Increase of Homestead Exemption

I recommend the repeal of the so-called "lien law" in the State Welfare Statute being Chapter 99 of the 1949 Session Laws. I recommend further the amendment of Sections 3-4501 and 6-1506 so that the homestead exemption will be increased under these sections of our code both civil and probate from $2,500.00 to $5,000.00. The protection afforded widows and surviving spouses, as well as minor children those laws have not been changed for many years and since even a modest home cannot be acquired now for less than $5,000.00, it seems to me that those Statutes should be revised at this time. Surviving widows and spouses as well as minor children, if any, of old age recipients should be treated precisely as others under these laws, and Section 6-2021 should be amended accordingly.

Natural Resource Board

By and large, water is our greatest natural resource. I favor the creation of a strong soil, water and natural resource board in our State. It should be clothed not only with broad authority but with an adequate and qualified staff. Greater emphasis should be laid on the storage of our waters nearest their source. Such a program would enable us to protect our top soil and to use and reuse the water before it leaves our State. The Board should plan and propose practical irrigation projects for construction by the Bureau of Reclamation. The full use of the water resources of our State cannot be made without construction of small projects not included in the Bureau program. The Board can effectively plan for the steady growth of our agricultural and mineral resources. It will be concerned with accelerating the orderly development of our resources and securing the attendant benefits to our people. We should proceed with due regard to our financial abilities and it may well be that this can be accomplished in an economical manner by a combination of existing boards. I commend this matter to you for your serious consideration.

Additional Duties for Highway Patrolmen

It seems to me that legislation should be enacted requiring highway patrolmen to report damage to property, such as fences, along State highways.

Granting Royalties in Lieu of Surface Damages

The Wyoming Farm Loan Board obtained title through foreclosure on a considerable acreage and upon resale reserved title to all of the minerals and conveyed only the surface. In some cases, the owner finds that mineral development has impaired, if not destroyed, the usefulness of the surface. I believe it would be only fair and equitable to allocate a percentage of the royalties to such owners in lieu of surface damages except in cases where the lands are known to contain valuable minerals. I have favored similar legislation in the Congress and I commend such to you for your wise consideration.

Game and Fish Commission

All of us favor the maximum development of the game and fish resources of the State. Improvements can be made, of course, but our basic law is one of the best in the country. We should favor the planting of more and larger fish, and the promotion of an intelligent and long-range program of game management. We should resist any program of the federal government to enroach upon our control and dominion over our wild life. Of course, you will do whatever you can to carry out those objectives.

Ratification of Constitutional Amendment

I recommend the passage of a joint resolution ratifying a proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America, relating and limiting the terms of office of the President of the United States.

Liquor Laws

Last, but by no means of least importance, I urge you to revise our liquor laws in these two particulars: (1) That provision be made for State-wide liquor inspection with adequate power and authority to enforce the law and at the same time I propose that you provide an additional tax on liquor to pay for this service. (2) That you amend the present law and provide definitely and specifically for the number of licenses for each city, town and county based on the last federal official census. It is assumed that you will not interfere with existing licenses. In my judgment, the present law imposing on the State Liquor Board the authority to grant additional licenses subjects that Board to unfair criticism regardless of any action it may take. I believe that the best interests of the State will be served by relieving it of that authority. I strongly urge that you take prompt action to correct this intolerable situation.

Wyoming is on the threshold of a vast development program. It is a high privilege for all of us to serve our people and to have a part in the betterment of our great State. I call upon you for your assistance and guidance. We have but one interest and that is the welfare of Wyoming and its citizens. You may be certain of my great desire and willingness to work with you. Let us work together to build a greater and better Wyoming.

To the Honorable Senate and Gentlemen:

In compliance with the provisions of Section 17-602, Wyoming Compiled Statutes, 1945, we, your committee appointed for the purpose, submit herewith a report showing the condition of the State Treasurer's Office at the close of business December 31, 1950.

The total amount of cash and securities held in general accounts at the close of business December 31, 1950, was $53,500,810.00, and the total of the cash as trust funds held by the State Treasurer at the close of business December 31, 1950, was $1,058,775.32, making a grand total of $54,559,585.32. This is represented by U. S. Certificates of Indebtedness and U. S. Bonds in the amount of $16,395,000.00; Bonds and Investments $29,595,268.11; Cash and in Banks $8,569,317.21.

The bonded debt of the State of Wyoming as of December 31, 1950, was $770,000.00.

Cash, bonds and securities are protected by a burglary and robbery insurance policy, issued by a surety company authorized to do business in the State of Wyoming, in the amount of $4,000,000.00, with an additional $300,000.00 for loss, destruction or misplacement of securities. A messenger insurance policy is also in force, and it carries protection up to $30,000.00. Further protection is also provided in that the night watchman is required to telephone the office of Chief of Police every hour during the night, and if he should fail to do so, an investigation would be started immediately to ascertain the cause.

Collateral security is pledged by each depository bank in an amount sufficient to protect State Funds.

At the close of the examination of the State Treasurer's Office all balances shown by the Treasurer's books were verified by balances as shown by the books of the State Auditor. The balances in all accounts as shown by the books of the Treasurer and Auditor are balanced and reconciled each month. We found the records of both offices are well kept and in good order.

Respectfully submitted,
E. PAT MURPHY,

GEORGE E. LINDELL,

Senator Lindell moved the adoption of the Report of the Committee of the Whole. The motion prevailed.

Senator Greene moved that the Senate stand in recess until 1:30 p. m. The motion prevailed and at 11:55 a. m. it was so ordered.

AFTERNOON SESSION

President Rymill called the Senate to order at 1:30 p. m.

President Rymill announced that Senator Harding would deliver a Lincoln Day address, and he invited Senator Harding to take the floor.

Senator Harding delivered the following address:

There is certainly nothing new that we can say about Lincoln that has not already been said and there is certainly no honor that we can pay to him that has not already been paid many times.

Perhaps more than all the rest of our nation's statesmen, Lincoln embodies what we like to call the American spirit. We seem to see him in the qualities that we regard as nationally characteristic, characteristic of the nation at its inspired best.

Perhaps more than any other of our great presidents, Lincoln has personified the great American dream of a poor boy rising from a dirt floored log cabin to the White House. Mr. Lincoln lived that dream—and in his typical humility once told a group of soldiers, "I happen temporarily to occupy this big White House. I am a living witness that any one of your children may look to come here, as my father's child has."

We are all familiar with many Lincolns, the Kentucky child, the boy in Indiana, the rail-splitter, the lawyer in Illinois, the great emancipator, the Civil War president, the humorist and the martyr.

Today for a moment I would like to recall young Abe Lincoln at the time when he first set foot on the political road that led to his immortal destiny. It was just after his 21st birthday that he migrated with his family and some friends to Illinois and shortly thereafter he took up residence in the little town of New Salem.

Many years later when he went to Congress he was asked to fill out a form for biographical purposes and opposite the word "Education" he wrote the single word "Defective". It is true that his formal schooling, accumulated at various times, amounted to less than one full year. But he had certainly prepared himself for a successful life. He had learned to think straight and to express himself simply and forcefully.

A year after arriving in New Salem as a store clerk he cast his first vote and prudently earned a dollar the same day by acting as clerk of the election board. Gaining in acquaintance and influence and becoming interested in politics in the young state, he was prompted to announce his candidacy for state legislature.

Although he ran strongly in his own precinct he was defeated. That was in 1832. The next year he was appointed to two semi-political jobs, as postmaster and at which job he served until 1836, receiving some $25.00 to $30.00 a year, and as deputy county surveyor. In 1834, he again ran for the legislature and this time he was successful, leading the four elected representatives, two of whom had already served in the state house. This was just four years after he had entered the state and at the age of 25. From a friend he borrowed $200.00, using the money to buy a new suit, to pay the stage coach fare for the twenty hour trip to Vandalia, and to live decently until the legislature voted themselves a salary payment.

One of his law partners later said that at this first session young Lincoln was anything but conspicuous. He was appointed to the Committee of Public Accounts and Expenditures but his name appears so infrequently in the report of the proceedings that it is apparent he must have contented himself with listening and learning. He was reserved in manner but observant, said little but learned much and made the acquaintance of all the members and of many other influential persons.

The record shows that in the House he introduced a bill limiting jurisdiction of Justices of the Peace. He introduced another bill to authorize one Samuel Musick to build a toll bridge across a small creek. He moved to change the rules so that it should not be in order to offer amendments to any bill after the third reading. He offered a resolution relating to state revenue to be derived from the sale of public lands and he moved to take from the table a report submitted by his committee.

With this modest record he returned to New Salem but the most important thing was that he had had an opportunity of measuring himself against the leading men of the state and he had found no difficulty in keeping pace with them. It was in this same year that he actively began the study of law.

The next year at a special session one of the bills he was interested in was a reapportionment act which entitled his county to 7 representatives and 2 senators. Consequently, after he had been reelected to the next regular session he had support in leading a successful fight to have the State Capitol moved from Vandalia to Springfield, just 20 miles from his home town.

The following year in 1837 he moved to Springfield to begin the practice of law, going into partnership with John Stuart. Admission to the Illinois bar at that time did not require examination. He had only to complete an approved reading course, secure a court certificate testifying to his good moral character and take an oath to support the constitutions of the United States and Illinois.

He was reelected in 1838 and 1840. In 1838 he came within one vote of being elected Speaker. It was in one of these last two campaigns that the Whig party contributed a purse of $200.00 for his campaign expenses. After the election, it is reported that he returned $199.25, explaining that he had spent 75c for a barrel of cider.

His partner Stuart was elected to Congress in 1839 and in 1841. Lincoln formed a new partnership with Stephen Logan. This association may have been the most important in his career. Logan was a constructive influence. Historians point out that heretofore young Lincoln had been inclined to carelessness, lack of method and slipshodness. Until then, in his practice of the law he had been inclined to rely on his own native wit and ability rather than on study and preparation. Logan, unlike many lawyers of that time did not regard the law merely as a stepping stone to political opportunity. Well grounded in the law as a science he was devoted to its philosophy and art. Methodical, industrious, particular, painstaking and precise, he compelled Lincoln to study and prepare each case carefully in advance. Thus Lincoln learned to state his points logically and concisely. This association lasted until 1844 when it was dissolved by mutual agreement. Lincoln then felt himself strong enough to head his own firm and it became "Lincoln and Herndon". Lincoln was then 34 and that shingle remained posted in Springfield for 22 years.

With four terms in the State legislature to his credit and many supporters among the Whigs of central Illinois, Lincoln set his heart upon election to Congress. His ambition, however, was not to be realized immediately. He failed to secure the nomination in 1842 and in 1844, but in 1846 he was successful and he was elected. He ran for reelection in 1848 but his open criticism of the events that had involved us in the Mexican War cost him the election. He declined an offer to become Governor of Oregon and return to his Springfield law practice. His reputation for integrity and ability continued to spread and he became a familiar figure throughout the state.

When the Kansas-Nebraska Act of 1854 set off a reaction that resulted directly in the establishment of a bold new Republican party to oppose the extension of slavery Lincoln became the leading Republican in the state.

In 1858 he was the unsuccessful candidate on the Republican ticket for the U. S. Senate, when he was defeated by Stephen Douglas. And, of course, 2 years later, in 1860, Abe Lincoln of Illinois became the first Republican president.

We have only touched on the highlights leading up to the Presidency and we will not today follow the chain of events further. Let us look at Mr. Lincoln in retrospect and let us first admit that he was a conservative president in many respects. He was conservative in his preference for moderation, for orderly progress, and he was conservative in his distrust of dangerous agitation and in his reluctance to adopt ill-digested reform schemes. But if his conservatism was a kind of brake, or saving common sense, liberalism was his vital spark. Liberalism was the key to his views of man and state. Lincoln was at his best in propounding fundamental human rights. It was at such moments that he seemed inspired, at such times when he spoke against slavery or for liberty, for justice and the progress of mankind. As early as his second legislative campaign he had spoken of woman suffrage, far ahead of his time. It was under Lincoln that the Department of Agriculture had its beginning. It was Lincoln who signed the Homestead Act of 1862, opening vast areas to economic freedom.

The Lincoln record is no mere success story of a rail-splitter who became President or a prairie lawyer who reached world fame. We may still wonder just how he became the embodiment of American genius. Perhaps the inner source of his strength has not been fully plumbed. We may look for one clue to his own words "I am driven to my knees over and over again because I have no where else to go."

We may find it difficult to answer where and how he learned statecraft, but statesmen even yet will do well to take him as a guide and teacher. In each new recurring crisis we continue to appeal to the spirit of Lincoln.

His inspired words and the rugged vigor of his ideals seem today to have just as great vitality as during the vexing years of his Presidency.

The power of his convictions, his tolerance, his impressive solemnity and sincerity, and his unfailing down to earth humor have endeared him to the hearts of all Americans. We in the Republican party are honestly and justly proud of Mr. Lincoln, but we must also admit that today he belongs to the ages, to all Americans, to all people.

Each of us can, if we will, help to fulfill the heritage he left to us. We can resist any attempt to change his philosophy of a government of the people, by the people and for the people to new and dangerous philosophies of government over the people.

As in his time, we can and must oppose any world that tries to exist half slave and half free.

We can take inspiration from Mr. Lincoln by trying to think straight and by insisting upon straight answers to our straight questions.

We can cling to his zeal for hard work and productions, to his faith in our free enterprise system, to his conviction that capital and labor in mutual respect can achieve a fuller and richer life for all.

We can, today, four score and seven years after the battle of Gettysburg, rededicate ourselves to the great task still remaining before us, the task for which Mr. Lincoln was born, and the task in which he died, the task of building a strong and free America, the task of building a better world for all.

Senator Greene moved that Senator Harding's remarks be spread at large upon the journal. The motion prevailed.

Appointment of Special Committees

Senator Greene moved that a committee of two be appointed to wait upon His Excellency, the Governor, to notify him that the Legislature had concluded its labors and to ascertain if he had any further communication that he desired to submit to the Legislature before they adjourned sine die. The motion prevailed and President Rymill announced that he would appoint Senators Champion and Hunter to act as such committee.

The committee appointed to wait upon His Excellency, the Governor, escorted him to the Senate Chamber where he addressed the members as follows:

Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

When I delivered my message to the Legislature I made some comments on the calibre and character of the Senate and the House. I said at that time, and I repeat now, measured by any yard stick, the character and calibre of both of these bodies are unsurpassed in the legislative annals of our state.

Keen observers of legislatures down through the years in Wyoming have told me that this legislature is one of the best that we have ever had. I concur with that observation and that appraisal. During my service in the Congress I observed that the Executive arm of the Government sought by every device and every means to dictate to the legislative branch. I made up my mind that when I came back to Wyoming that as far as I was concerned we would have none of that business here in this state. You have observed that I have made no effort to influence any member of this body or any member of the other body in regard to any legislation and no man can honestly or truthfully say that I have tried to influence him. I know that you men are endowed with abilities, if not superior to the gentlemen who is now serving as Executive of this state. I have a high regard for every branch of the state government and particularly the legislative branch, and I think the people of this great state deeply appreciate the splendid service Mr. President that you and the other members of this body have rendered them.

I would be remiss in my duty if I did not thank each and every one of you for the hard work, the mature deliberation and the great effort you have made on behalf of the people of our State. Reasonable men may disagree on many matters and after all what we try to do here is to resolve our thinking and to do that which we think is in the best interest of the people of our state, and so I want to say, Mr. President, that I thank every one of you for myself and for the people of our State for the great service you have rendered them during these forty days last past, and all I can say to each and every one of you as you travel homeward is Good-bye, Good luck, and God bless you.
